

Name _____

Introduction Technique:

Fact-based Question

(Teacher Directed- Whole Group)

Direct Statement: This informational piece is about a frog's life. You will learn about the egg, tadpole, froglet, and frog.

Example of a Fact-based question: What kind of animal starts as one of a thousand? You guessed it! Frogs! This informational piece is about a frog's life. You will learn about the egg, tadpole, froglet, and frog.

(Teacher Guided -Pair/Share and Share Out)

Fact-based question: What animal has gills that later change into lungs?

You guessed it! Frogs!

This informational piece is about a frog's life. You will learn about the egg, tadpole, froglet, and frog.

Fact-based question: What animal lives in a pond, jumps high, and catches food with its long, sticky tongue?

You guessed it! Frogs!

This informational piece is about a frog's life. You will learn about the egg, tadpole, froglet, and frog.

Fact-based question: What animal swims like a fish with a tail and later grows legs and toes?

You guessed it! Frogs!

This informational piece is about a frog's life. You will learn about the egg, tadpole, froglet, and frog.

Fact-based question: _____

_____ You guessed it! Frogs!

This informational piece is about a frog's life. You will learn about the egg, tadpole, froglet, and frog.

Fact-based question: _____

_____ You guessed it! Frogs!

This informational piece is about a frog's life. You will learn about the egg, tadpole, froglet, and frog.

Fact-based question: _____

_____ You guessed it! Frogs!

This informational piece is about a frog's life. You will learn about the egg, tadpole, froglet, and frog.